
Changes in prioritization of ESG issues since the start of COVID-19 pandemic

There is a mixed picture in terms of the way the prioritization of ESG issues has changed since the start of the COVID-19 pandemic. While just over a third of companies say these issues have become more of a priority, a similar proportion have de-prioritized ESG in light of other issues / concerns.